City Schools to Be Largely Improved By Issue of Bonds

To Finance Issue of $400,-000 Tax Rate Will Have to Be Increased—Full Details of Proposal Outlined.

The full program under which the out fire danger, would be equipped entire system of public schools in Danville would be improved and enlarged is now in the hands of the city dertaken at once. What the school issue which has been in course of development for several months by velopment for several months by members of the school board were learned today from authoritative sources. To carry out the projected program of improvement it will be necessary to increase the city's tax rate and it is proposed to submit such legislation at the special session of the General Assembly which will meet February 28th. Danville at present has the lowest tax rate of any city of Virginia, $1.75 on each $100 assessed rasity and personal property. The next lowest is Lynchburg which The next lowest is Lynchburg which least four months to the improving has a rate of $2.00. House Land Committee Takes Up Bill Introduced by Senator Slemp.

BY GEORGE H. MANNING (Washington Correspondent of The Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Efforts ed a bill introduced by him providing for the establishment of a plank at Cumberland Gap.

Mr. Slemp's bill authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to accept a donation of five thousand acres of land on and about High Knob Mountain, in Wise county, and to maintain the tract as a national park. Hearings for the bill had been set for yesterday. A delegation from Mr. Slemp's district was on hand to urge the acceptance of the project.

Mr. Slemp opened the argument for his bill. Pointing out that the first range of mountains seen as one goes west from the Atlantic, and that there are no national parks cast of the Rockies, he declared that here, in country, and as a spot to which the the keystone of the development of people of the United States could the whole wonderful country; it is

POLISH PROTESTANTS

(By The Associated Press) WARSAW, Feb. 13 .- The Protestant churches of Poland have been uthorized by the government, under the Polish constitution, to draw up their own statutes covering the administration of the church. Under this decision a Protestant synod was summored and has been sitting for

Due to the fact that there are great differences of opin.on between the German and the Polish Profestanis. It was suggested that two Protestant churches be formed, but the synod decided to defer the discussion of all questions in dispute, and this among them, and to take up only those upon which a compromise apenose upon when a compromise agreemed possible.

The last session of the synod was particularly animated. The Polish members found themselves in a slight minority, and left the hall as a sign of the synoder. of projest.

For France, even if she did want an excuse for occupying the Ruhr, the undertaking was a dangerous one.

Reds Very Busy. In the first place, she cut off the payments she was getting already from Germany. It was an expensive military enterprise in itself. It disorganized French trade at home, as a near-war might be expected to do. She's encountering an unexpected difficulty, too. The communists—Bolsheviki in short—are busy. They didn't have much trouble in arousing discontent among the Germans in the Ruhr, but they didn't stop at thatself, and a big strike of coal workers there is threatened.

hillp Oppenheim

WORLD FAMOUS AUTHOR OF "THE GREAT IMPERSONATION," "MR. GREX OF MONTE CARLO" AND OTHER POPULAR MYSTERY NOVELS, HAS COMPLETED WHAT CRITICS PRONOUNCE HIS MASTERPIECE.

Of all of the hundreds of detective stories that have claimed attention, only "Sherlock Holmes" at his best is comparable to this new Oppenheim triumph. presents an enthralling combination of splendid literary style, cleverly created situations and subtly sustained interest.

"EXPLOITS OF SIR NORMAN GREYES"

The new Oppenheim work, is a series of unusually interesting episodes, recounting the pursuit of a famous international cirminal by a retired Scotland Yard criminologist.

The author departs from the somewhat stereotyped manner in which criminal narratives unfold. He expunges all grewsome details, interweaves heart interest in an amazing manner and brings the reader to the climax with the triumphant feeling that the reader's intelligence, not Oppenheim's great new character, solves the mystery.

Believing this to be the greatest detective story feature of the decade, THE BEE. has secured newspaper serial rights.

THE BEE UNHESITATINGLY RECOMMENDS THE NEW OPPENHEIM SERIALS AS THE GREATEST OF ITS TYPE EVER TENDERED TO READERS OF FICTION.

Of all of the hundreds of detective stories that have claimed attention, only "Sherlock Holmes" at his best is comparable to this new Oppenheim triumph. presents an enthralling combination of splendid literary style, cleverly created situations and subtly sustained interest.

"EXPLOITS OF SIR NORMAN GREYES"

The new Oppenheim work, is a series of unusually interesting episodes, recounting the pursuit of a famous international cirminal by a retired Scotland Yard criminologist.

The author departs from the somewhat stereotyped manner in which criminal narratives unfold. He expunges all grewsome details, interweaves heart interest in an amazing manner and brings the reader to the climax with the triumphant feeling that the reader's intelligence, not Oppenheim's great new character, solves the mystery.

Believing this to be the greatest detective story feature of the decade, THE BEE has secured newspaper serial rights.

Miss Grace Mason, daughter of the city attorney, one of the most ardent of the devottes of the latest fad, delares she thinks it much more exciting and interesting than golf and that it requires a great deal more skill.

An elimination tournament will be held the first part of the spring, and the five best pitchers will be named as, the Atlanta Society Horseshoe Pitchers, and challenges issued to like teams in Birmingham, New Orleans and other southern cities.

The craze originated at the winter resorts in Florida, and Atlanta misses, returning from their annual sojourn in the pleasure haunts of the southern Riviera, were so enthusiastic about it that they immediately set about forming clubs in Atlanta, More than 15 clubs already have been formed and more are being formed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18, —Conditions in the Veterans' Bureau were discussed informally today by the special Senate Committee headed by Senator Sutherlin, Republican, West Virginia, which was instructed by a resolution, adopted yesterday, to make a preliminary inquiry into charges of extravagance, waste and other irregularities in the bureau. Announcement

I am candidate for the State Senate and request of the voters of the County of Pittsylvania and the City of Danville their support at the Special Election of Tuesday, February

This election was not called until December 23. As a result a personal canvass of the voters . has been and will be impossible.

The occasion of the special election is an extraordinary session of the General Assembly which will convene on February 28. The Senator elected on February 20th will serve only for this extra session. The extra session has been called for two purposes: 1. To consider methods of .. financing Virginia's road program. 2. To remedy an error made last year in the passage of the Senatorial Redistricting bill.

The only one of these questions about which there is controversy is of that of road financing.

In my opinion the extra session will not enact a satisfactory permanent policy of pro-- viding funds for road building. I therefore hold to the view that the General Assembly should content itself with providing some temporary arrangement to insure a reasonable amount of road construction during 1923. I would oppose any property tax for this purpose and if a gasoline tax is to be levied it should not be excessive but only sufficientito:provide such money as is absolutely necessary for this temporary use. I do not believe that the extra session should authorize any bond issue and if elected would vote against Respectfully same. $

JAMES BRUNO TO FACE TRIAL FOR VENDING NARCOTICS

By JACK JUNGMEYER
(Special to The Ber.)
OS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—The opening wedge will be 'driven into dope traffic in the world's movie hub, government officials believe, though federal prosecution of James Bruno. whose trial on a charge of yending narcotics in Hollywood will begin here

Brano, allias Moreno, say officer aho arrested him, had an extensive clientele in the famous film center. This trial follows the visit to Les Angeles of Colonel Nutt, federal narcotte chief. It is considered the first gun in a concentrated state and government attack on drug vendors haunting the cinema colony. Because of its wealthy residents and sensation seeking winter tourists, Hollywood long has been the meca of America's willest dopesters and the despair of enforcement officers. Here according to those who thus picture Hollywood, habitues have been practically immune behind a barrier of wealth and influence. Sleuths declare the handicap in men and money makes suppression almost impossible Again the problem of enforcement here probably is the lardest in the country officers say, because there are no dives and no obvious underworld element where the "stool pig-

Not all college men care to dance. so Mr. Smith has provided a double entertainment in the Violet Hut for his young men and women: For the crowd who do not dance there is contentainment room where games, singing, recitations and all sorts of freak stunts are performed. Every young man and woman is called upon to personally express his or her talent and this feature of the program is quite as popular as the dancing.

"What type of girl have you found the college boy most appreciates?" I asked Mr Smith. "Does he admire the gul who is fond of the hp-stick and flashy clothes, or the pale, modest violet whom he always claims he There was a twinkle in the secre-

Motor Ride With Pastor Leads to Police Court

-ROCKVILLE, Md., Feb. 13.—When Mrs. II, C. James, of Woodmont, this county, several days ago accepted an invitation to occupy a seat in an automobile in charge of the Rev. J. B. Bavis, pastor of the Woodmont Methodist church, and make the trip to Washington, whither she was bound, in that way rather than by nolley, she doubtless little dreamed that it would result in a scene in the police court here, with her as one of the principal characters

The evening of the trip to Washington, Ars. James attended services in the Woodmont church. Upon their conclusion, as she was leaving the church, she was accosted by Mrs. Davis, wife of the minister, who im-formation that whenever she wished to visit Washington the electric cars were available as a means of trans-portation, but that she must understand that there would never again be any room for her in the Davis au tomobile, which, Mrs. Davis declared belonged to her and not to her husband. The pastor's wife said a good deal more and enough to anger Mrs. James sufficiently to cause her to palm of her hand against Mrs. Davis' face with a resounding slap. Some excitement, of course, ensued, but quist was restored before anybody was very seriously hurt.

All of the above facts were ideveloped in the police court here. where the trate ladies found themselves with charges of assault preferred by each other. Justice Samuel Riggs, however, before whom they were tried, didn't think the tes-timony showed that anything very serious bad happened, and in each case he rendered a verdict of not gulity. Paster Davis was on the witness stand, but was inclined to be reticent and threw very little light on the controversy.
